

Algebra 2 Online Learning Weekly Schedule & Plan

Hi everyone! I know these are tough times and you are getting a lot of different instructions and information from all of your teachers on top of the other stresses you have to deal with. I am so sorry that you all have to go through this as students and I want to make this online learning process as straight forward as possible. First of all, please know that I am going to do everything I can make sure that your grades are fair and properly represent the content you understand. My goal of this online learning is to continue learning the important concepts of Algebra 2 so students feel prepared for their math courses next year. I strongly suggest that students take notes during the video lessons and work through the HW assignments so they can have these notes and resources for next year. I am also going to make sure that I am communicating frequently and answering any and all questions you might have come up. All of the learning materials for the week will be posted on Monday on my website so students can work at their own pace. The goal is for 25 minutes of math per day.

Here is the weekly schedule for Algebra 2:

Monday

There will be a video focusing on a new topic. I would like students to be taking notes during the video and following along with the examples. Just like in class please pause the video to try out the examples yourself first and then follow along to check your answers.

Tuesday

There will be a HW assignment based off of Monday's video. These HW assignments will not be graded but I strongly suggest that students complete these to prepare for their Friday quiz and get ready for next year's courses. Please make sure you check your answers as well.

Wednesday

Wednesday will be just like Monday where there is a video lesson. I would like students to be taking notes during the video and following along with the examples. Just like in class please pause the video to try out the examples yourself first and then follow along to check your answers.

Thursday

This will be just like Tuesday. There will be a HW assignment based off of Wednesday's video. These HW assignments will not be graded but I strongly suggest that students complete these to prepare for their Friday quiz and get ready for next year's courses. Please make sure you check your answers as well.

Friday

There will be a quiz every Friday that is worth 15 points. I will post these quizzes every Thursday morning and then this quiz will be due 5PM on Sunday. The quiz will be linked on my website in the notes section and could be in different formats. Sometimes it will be multiple choice, sometimes fill in and sometimes short answer. Please always look for instructions at the top of the quiz for how to turn in your answers/work if necessary. There will not be quiz points back. The expectation is that students are doing their own work on these quizzes; not working together, using each other's answers or using the aid of tutors, family members or friends.

Office Hours

I plan to be available by email throughout the week but I will be sitting at my email to immediately respond on Tuesday and Thursday from 12PM-1PM weekly.
